Choosing future profession is a difficult task for every school-leaver. I heard this statement from a lot of people in my life. And it's really hard task for people. A lot of students want to try all professions. Others don't know what to do. I can't choose who I will be. In the past, I also can't choose my future profession that I will love. It was because I loved a lot of things: drawing, my pets, studying English, sports. I don't know who should I be: an artist or a teacher, or something else. But now,

~~Student~~ I'm in ^{the} 9th ^{grade} class and I can say that I know ~~who~~ who I want to be in ^{the} future. I ~~in~~ hope my classmates and other ~~school~~ students will find ~~their~~ ~~future~~ profession in ^{the} future.

36 1. What do I think about "choosing a future profession is a difficult task for every school leaver?" ~~Good question~~. I will explain my opinion on this in several points and then tie it all up together in the end.

28 1. I do believe a statement about finding profession being difficult for everyone is exaggerated. People are all different with different life experiences. A lot of people will indeed be about

was sure ~~on~~ what to choose, but so there is a ^{group} ~~part~~ of people who ~~know~~ ^{know} exactly what their profession will be. That was my first ~~point~~ ^{point}. My second point is:

As a school leaver, I feel ~~so~~ ^{so} myself. I can relate to the statement as I don't know which ~~future~~ profession I will be choosing. ^{to choose}

99

This statement ^{applies to} people like me.
My third and last point is: ^{There is} A lot of factors could be reasons why school-leavers may not know what future profession they want to have.
There is nothing to be ashamed of! The statement I am sharing my thoughts on has rather neutral tone about it.

34

In my three points I laid out what how I see ^{the} ~~at~~ statement and why. It is: exaggerated, relatable to some, ^{and} ~~addresses some~~ people, neutral
~~and not stigmatizing~~ ^{show} ~~statements~~. This statement's primary goal is to ~~address~~ ^{indeed} that ~~yes~~ ^{are} there are people who leave school and ^{are} not sure what their future profession will be. This is how I understand the statement.

Visiting Moscow

Last winter Olga and her family visited her aunt in Moscow for the first time. Olga wrote about what she saw there in her blog.

Olga online

Last winter holidays my parents and I went to see my aunt, my father's sister, in Moscow. It was my first time in the Russian capital. I enjoyed the trip very much. Here's the report about my visit.

Wednesday, 3rd January

Red Square is the heart of Moscow. It is the most popular sight for tourists. It is also a place for parades, concerts and tours. You can see the Kremlin, Saint Basil's Cathedral, GUM department store and the State Historical Museum there.
