I got a question about how I understand the following statement, "Choosing future profession is a difficult task for every school-leaver". So I am going to answer.

g p l I think that means that choosing^g profession really hard now, because of AI and we need in profession ~~that~~ which was valuable in the past.

gr At first, now we have an AI which ^{have} decreased need in artists, because it can generate songs or pictures on every theme.

Also, now we have robotic fabrics, so common workers not so valuable as they ^{were} ~~was~~, because they just don't have a work to do there.

That is how I understand this statement.

Choosing future profession is really stressful and complex complicated task for every school-leaver.

gr

Personally, I faced this problem when I was choosing my future profession. And I understand statement "Choosing future profession is a difficult task for every school-leaver" because when you start choosing profession many problems arise while choosing profession.

Firstly, majority of professions and booming work market. School-leavers want to choose a job that they would enjoy and also well-paid. Because ^{it} is difficult to comply with both conditions.

Another problem is that pressure from society, from parents and also from yourself. When you leave school you don't have much time on choosing. you have to be ready for this time and go to apply to university. Otherwise, you will go to the army.

In conclusion, I want to say that go school students must choose their future profession in advance and prepare for it.
